BACKGROUND

In November 2018, former Deputy Mayor Jesse Salomon won election to the Washington State Senate in the 32nd Legislative District. He subsequently resigned his Shoreline City Council seat (City Council Position #6) effective January 14, 2019. This included distributing and publishing a notice of the vacancy and an application form. The deadline for receiving applications from the public was January 3, 2019, and Council reviewed Council Candidate qualifications on January 7th, 2019. ## Shoreline City Council Application Questions

Describe your special qualifications applicable to City Council:

I believe I would bring a unique and needed voice to the City Council. Both my background and career path are unique. I am a licensed attorney in Washington but have never practiced law. I have worked my way up the career ladder in the public sector. I come from a multiracial and multicultural background (White English mother and Black American father), raised my sons as a single parent, and have lived in rental housing all my adult life. My journey has taken me from being a single parent, raising children and attending school while surviving on public assistance and student loans, to my current position as an Executive Director. I grew up in a very racially and economically diverse neighborhood. This has broadened my perspective and ability to walk in someone else's shoes and see from that point of view. I know what it is like to have privilege and sit (somewhat) comfortably in the majority. I also know what it is like to be made to feel inferior and unwelcome as an outsider. I understand the impacts of structural and institutional racism and sexism from a personal as well as professional perspective. I believe diversity of thought and perspective is crucial for informed decision making that includes an awareness of equity issues and unintended impacts.

I have experience in a political environment with a variety of competing stakeholders with differing goals and objectives. I just completed my term as Chair of the Civil Legal Aid Oversight Committee. The Committee includes State Senators and Representatives, Judges, and an appointee from the Office of the Governor's General Counsel. As well as chairing our Committee meetings, I attended meetings and represented the Committee before the Supreme Court, the Board of Governors for the Washington State Bar Association, the Access to Justice Board, leadership of the King County Bar Association, and the Seattle Times. I am a City of Seattle employee in an independent department. I am appointed by and report to the Civil Service Commission and the Public Safety Civil Service Commission. Each Commission is made up of a Mayoral appointee, a City Council appointee, and an employee elected member. The City Council must confirm my appointment. In my work, I have to work regularly with employees from the Department of Human Resources and the Law Department and have frequent communication with employees throughout the City of Seattle.

I believe in treating everyone with professionalism and respect. I have extensive training and experience investigating and mediating complaints and in negotiating settlements. It has made me an excellent listener that identifies underlying meanings and interests. I am able to manage disagreement and conflict while remaining calm. I am comfortable interacting with people of all backgrounds and of all demographics. I provide a positive and respectful experience to employees at all levels of government as well as to the public. I believe in appropriately sharing honest and accurate information in a timely manner. I believe that consistency, dependability, integrity, and fairness go toward developing trust and credibility regardless of whether you are in agreement or in conflict.

Why do you want to serve on the Shoreline City Council?

My positions on the Statewide Civil Legal Aid Oversight Committee and the City of Seattle Management Association ended in 2018 and I am looking for an opportunity to become involved and give back to my local community. I have lived in Shoreline since 2011 and would like to take a deeper dive into the city that I and several family members live in. In the past several years, I have witnessed changes in the region and would like to lend my voice to the discussion. I believe I can fairly, equitably, and reasonably represent the people who live, work, and play in Shoreline. While I stay informed about local issues, I would like to become more involved in the decision making around issues that are important and impactful to the City of Shoreline. I originally moved to Shoreline as a less expensive area than Seattle but have grown to love the sense of community and caring that Shoreline residents have for their neighbors and for the city. The City Council should continue to foster the sense of a caring and compassionate community where residents know and are willing to reach and help their neighbors. Now that Shoreline has become my home, I want the opportunity to invest my time and energy to making a difference here. I am a graduate of Leadership Tomorrow (2014) and the JustLead Washington Toward Equity & Justice Leadership Academy (2018). I want to continue my leadership journey while maintaining my commitment to public service. I have spent my career in the public sector and think that decisions should be based on what is best for the community and common good instead of self-interest.

Specify any activities that might create a conflict of interest if you should be appointed:

The only conflict of interest I foresee is if asked to vote on decisions that impact my property owner, Par Three LLC, at North City Park Villa.

What do you believe are the most important issues facing the Shoreline community at this time and the role the City Council can play in addressing each issue?

I believe the most important role for the City Council is to have a vision for the future of Shoreline, a strategic plan to develop and implement that vision and messaging to constituents around the vision and the plan to achieve it. If the City Council has a vision for Shoreline, then when issues come up they can respond consistent with that vision instead of reacting moment by moment, issue by issue. When making decisions around changing laws and developing budgets, the City Council should ask whether this moves us closer or further away from the vision we have for Shoreline. The most important issue will be continued growth and density in Shoreline. Increased growth and density are inevitable, regardless of the pain this causes some residents, so being able to plan for that in a responsible and equitable way is essential. With an increased population, the area will see increased crime, traffic, and needs for services and infrastructure. If at all possible, the City Council should try to stay ahead of the game, instead of being forced to play catch up after growth happens. Shoreline is not part of Seattle; however, my perception is that King County focuses much of their attention on the larger south end of the county. The Shoreline City Council needs to develop a strong City identity and advocate for our specific needs. The City Council will have to make tough choices about how to increase revenues to provide needed services and infrastructure while still providing opportunities for an economically diverse population to thrive.

Traffic is increasing, and commuting times are longer so developing a plan for increased public transit services is needed. A transit plan also has to account for employees that do not work a traditional Monday through Friday, daytime schedule. People with young children or with disabilities cannot be expected to walk long distances to a bus stop or transfer several times to get their destination. The City Council will need to figure out ways to increase transit options and improve traffic flow and safety.

If the City can increase employment opportunities in Shoreline, then more residents will be able to work close to home. As well as increased businesses, an option such as a shared work space would allow more employees to telecommute or conduct meetings locally. Increased employment opportunities may come naturally with the increased population, but the City could also plan for commercial not just residential development and incentivize starting or moving businesses to Shoreline.

The homelessness issue is a pressing one in the region and a multifaceted approach will be required to tackle it. To keep up with rising housing costs, the City Council should require and incentivize affordable rental housing options and develop ways to keep lower income families in the homes they own. In addition, there is an increased need for mental and behavioral health services, addiction and substance abuse services, reentry programs for the formerly incarcerated, and supportive housing for all of the above. The City Council should balance compassion without allowing widespread unsafe and unhygienic living conditions to develop.

With an increased population, the City Council should also look for ways to increase arts and recreation opportunities and open space in Shoreline. Arts and recreation and open space are essential to a healthy community, providing opportunities to keep children focused on positive and productive activities and allowing everyone to destress, enjoy cultural events, and meet other members of their community.

With all these issues, using a data driven approach and seeking continual improvement is important. It's important to identify how the City Council will know whether things are working and what changes are needed to policies, rules, or laws to bring about the desired results. There are always many more needs than resources to fulfill them, so I understand that the City Council often must make difficult decisions on challenging questions.

1. List your educational background (or attach resume). See Attached Resume.
2. Please state your occupational background, beginning with your current occupation and employer (or attach resume). See Attached Resume.

3. Describe your community activities and volunteer work (or attach resume).
See Attached Resume.

4. Describe your special qualifications applicable to City Council.

Beyond the formal experience outlined in my attached resume, I hope to serve on Shoreline City Council to help facilitate collaborative and strategic partnerships with private, public and non-profit sector entities to support fulfilling the community's long-term goals as set forth in the Vision 2029 vision statement.

I have experience with balancing and reviewing large capital expenditure and operating budgets, helping to complete large infrastructure projects on time and in budget. I have served on multiple non-profit governance boards in the areas of human services, transitional housing, homelessness and race equity.

I have also served on working groups and strategic committees related to advocacy and best-practice discussions on issues of homelessness, affordable housing and addiction. I have particularly enjoyed the work I have been privileged to be involved with led by the Washington Low Income Housing Alliance and the Seattle Region Partnership. I hope to continue the city's efforts to engage in regional and state-level multi-agency and multi-sector partnerships and committees to ensure that state, local and municipal agencies are coordinating investments and activities to address these major issues.

I believe that we can continue to support the community's goals of diversity and inclusion in civic engagement by considering simple and practical enhancements to city events and meetings including child-care options, proxy and remote attendance, and varied session options. Growing up in a small family restaurant located on North Seattle's Aurora Avenue has given me the opportunity to meet and learn from many of our unsheltered and marginalized neighbors that need unique services and support to transition into permanent housing. I hope to bring a diverse perspective in listening, engaging and interacting with Shoreline leaders and residents in developing new methods of addressing complex challenges.

5. Why do you want to serve on the Shoreline City Council?

I deeply love our city and want to help the community in solidifying and enhancing Shoreline's identity with practical efforts and initiatives to support the Council's commitment to professional, effective and sustainable city management.

I enjoy servant leadership opportunities to enable and support other residents and community members of Shoreline to engage in civic activities and get their ideas for improving our city off the ground by helping to establishing collaborative networks, partnerships and helping to navigate access to resources.

Shoreline's greatest asset is its residents. In particular, the engagement, resilience and diversity of its community members looking for opportunities to engage and develop new community enhancement initiatives, including pocket parks, community events and activities, civic groups, public art projects, and human services projects. I hope to serve all the residents of Shoreline by building upon Shoreline's inclusivity efforts to encourage use of city programs and engagement in city projects by all of Shoreline's resident.

6. Specify any activities that might create a conflict of interest if you should be appointed to the City Council.

I own my home in the City of Shoreline in the Echo Lake Neighborhood. Additionally, I am employed by a local not-for-profit organization with its principal place of business located in Shoreline.

7. Briefly explain what you believe are the most important issues facing the Shoreline community at this time and the role the City Council can play in addressing each issue.

Currently, I agree with King County Executive, Dow Constantine, that homelessness and housing affordability are the most pressing challenges facing the Shoreline community and our greater region. Notwithstanding, I believe those challenges are symptoms of larger complex upstream issues that our community must address collectively, including the region's housing shortage, mental health and addiction crisis, growing income inequality, and lack of social services and community engagement options.

I believe City Council can continue to address these challenges by implementing policies, directing investments, and modeling a civic culture that increases housing inventory and density, improves social and economic mobility for individuals, and provides opportunities for greater access for Shoreline residents to access human services and community activities.

The city should also continue to foster collaboration and greater public investment through practical initiatives and partnerships, especially working with Shoreline Community College, Shoreline Public Schools, King County and the City of Seattle's new collaborative entity on homelessness. These partnerships can support greater school to work options, increase the availability of affordable housing, and support individuals transitioning from involuntary institutionalization or mental health treatment.

I also believe a sustainable community is also an economically diverse and resilient community. With strategic infrastructure, public art, human services, and community investments that activate residents and facilitate collaborations with local non-profits, Shoreline can foster centers of art and culture that attract geographically diverse stakeholders to Shoreline, fostering economic development and sustainable and environmentally friendly density in neighborhood centers.

I believe these changes not only reduce homelessness by providing economic stimulus and living wage jobs, but also prevent chronic homelessness through generating more education and work-training pathways, allowing the city to invest in more human services, and attracting small businesses to our community, helping to ensure that individuals that suffer acute homelessness have access to services and community networks that help to make the experience rare, brief and one-time.

To that end, I hope to work on strategic partnerships and initiatives to consider policies that attract and incentivize more businesses of diverse backgrounds to Shoreline, including businesses outside of the retail and services sector that help to make the community more resilient to external market changes. City contracts can also continue to support diversity and local economic growth by seeking to contract with local businesses that support Shoreline's environmental and diversity goals.

List your educational background

I am a graduate of the University of Washington, 1996, with a Bachelor of Arts in Communications.

Please state your occupational background, beginning with your current occupation and employer

My professional journey includes various leadership roles throughout 20 years in local television broadcasting, and 2 years as a mission-driven media relations specialist and spokesperson.

I am a career-long storyteller and advocate, using the various platforms at my disposal to shine a light on individuals and issues that impact my community.

In my time at KING 5 Television, I grew the results of their annual signature community event nearly 600%. This was accomplished by gregarious goal setting, care and feeding of community relationships, partnerships, influence and collaboration. The campaign earned two Emmy awards in my tenure, and helped anchor a winning submission for the Service to America Award, presented by the National Association of Broadcasters.

What I reflect on most fondly during this time, are the countless discussions had with non-profit organizations in Western Washington. Learning about the tremendous needs they serve and contributing to their success. Areas of interest were education, health, arts and the environment. Also, the ability to react and respond to emergencies when a need in the community arises. That's how I was introduced to the American Red Cross and its mission.

In 2016, I made a career and life change to join one of the causes I had championed. I have been honored to represent the Red Cross at disaster scenes at home and across the country. This role has also provided the opportunity to lead a team of volunteers, individuals who inspire me every day through their selfless work and dedication.

Much like my experience with Home Team Harvest, Red Cross communications are growing at staggering rates. The editorial team is bigger, more efficient, more effective and surpassing goals at every turn under my leadership.

Describe your community activities and volunteer work

I have been part of the City of Shoreline PRCS&T board since 2013, a position I have taken great pride in over the years. Officially I am a member and chair of the board. Unofficially, I consider myself an evangelist for the City, its resources, amenities, values and community.

Also within the community, I am an active member of the Ridgecrest Elementary School PTA. This year, I volunteered to spearhead their external communications. Last spring, I coached “Girls on the Run” and chaired the school’s annual multi-cultural family event, the “Taste of Ridgecrest.” I consider myself incredibly fortunate to have this opportunity for involvement. I share my experience and enthusiasm with parents, PTA members and community members at large and encourage active involvement. I’ve inspired others to take on responsibilities as chairs of other PTA events or join their neighborhood associations. I find that contributions made on behalf of the young families in our neighborhood and their development are incredibly rewarding.

Outside of Shoreline, I am a 5-year member of the Seattle CityClub Board of Governors. Our organizational mission is Civic Engagement and Civic Health, creating opportunities for discussion, access to political leaders and issues impacting our region. For 2018 I was asked to chair the organization’s Governance committee, primarily focused on managing policies, recruiting new board members and maintaining board health and satisfaction. I have learned so much from the community I have there, individuals who value civility as the most important of our combined qualities.

City Council qualifications and service questions

Describe your special qualifications applicable to City Council:

I am a thoughtful, active listener. I am politely inquisitive and ask questions that encourage deeper understanding for all involved. I have an engaging persona and am eager to apply these specific qualities as a chosen representative of our city.

I take complex issues, process them, and describe them in ways that make them clearer and easier for others to comprehend.

I value civility and collaboration, but will not and have not shied away from respectfully presenting a dissenting opinion.

My role as a Park Board member gives me unique insight into one aspect of our City's operations in the midst of a dynamic period for our Parks Department. I was an active participant in the creation of the current PROS plan, specifically in the process of ascertaining needs, interests and desires from multiple segments of our community.

I also represent residents and homeowners on the rapidly evolving eastern side of Shoreline. I see what they are seeing and feel what they are feeling as the city grows around us. I believe it is essential for the council to have a diversity of perspectives and opinions represented, including the geography of our neighborhoods within the city of Shoreline.

Why do you want to serve on the Shoreline City Council?

I feel strongly that the Shoreline City Council should be representative of its residents. Diversity of perspectives and opinions is essential to thoughtful and effective governance. Geographic diversity should be considered as well. Currently, the council is under represented from communities like Ridgecrest which are east of I-5 and who are expected to face the biggest impacts of the re-zoning and development projects. I am proud to be putting my candidature forward as a resident impacted by the impending changes and in turn be the voice of the communities who share similar impacts in the City of Shoreline.

But my address isn't the only or main reason I want to serve. As detailed in some of the questions above, I have had several years to grow and prepare for this opportunity. It is a role I have considered pursuing for some time. I have loved having a voice in our Parks Department and its services. I have loved talking to community members about their relationship to these places and programs. Now I am interested in, and ready to be an educated, experienced and thoughtful voice on the City Council and to have a vote in the key decisions that shape this City.

I want to be a champion for the public through due process and offer my communications experience to outreach efforts, internal and external, city wide.

I want to be an advocate for the members of my community and continue to be an evangelist for Shoreline within and beyond its boundaries.

Specify any activities that might create a conflict of interest if you should be appointed:

My husband is the owner of a coffee roasting company based in Burlington, WA that has several accounts in the City of Shoreline. Café Aroma and Sky Nursery are most well-known. I am somewhat partial to their lattes.

Darryl Miller, my husband, is also a board member for the Shoreline Lake Forest Park Arts Council, an organization that receives a portion of its budget from the City of Shoreline.

In my current position at the American Red Cross, I serve as a spokesperson for the organization. In that role, I occasionally provide media interviews (TV, Radio & Print), where my name is referenced in local and national media.

What do you believe are the most important issues facing the Shoreline community at this time and the role the City Council can play in addressing each issue?

Briefly explain:

I'm a big believer in the phrase, "you don't know what you don't know," so I won't pretend to identify the most important issues. That said, my experience on the Park Board and as a resident allow for observation and some insight.

One issue is the potential outcry as trees and homes come down in rapid succession this March. The reality of change coming to Shoreline will be seen and felt in new and significant ways, shocking for community members who have been only passively involved in the process. The location may also draw attention, questions and possible ire from individuals outside our city limits, who only drive through to and from work each day.

I believe the Council could be working closely with staff to encourage outreach, beyond traditional platforms, to tell our side of the complete story, including plans for replacement trees within our borders and a story of opportunity, mobility, growth and community in a positive way.

Also in the works is the likelihood of a very large bond measure to fund a new Community and Aquatics Center and Park Improvements city-wide. The PFAC is working hard to understand the data, design concepts and financial impacts. I have been both inspired and impressed by the thoughtfulness of the members of our committee. We are grappling with what projects will be proposed, the size and functionality of the pool, and available funding mechanisms. I believe Shoreline needs a facility to be built, existing park land needs to be improved, and new land purchased for the future. I believe we need these things to maintain the quality of life for our community as it grows, and yet I am concerned about the impact of increased taxes on senior, and lower income populations. In many cases, these are the very individuals I hope will benefit most from these public facilities. It would be defeating if, in the process of providing these amenities, if these families/community members are priced out of our neighborhoods.

This will be a question the PFAC and ultimately the Council will deliberate and decide. In the process, and hopefully before that point, I believe the Council can and should be involved with improving working relationships with the School District. Once the current Shoreline pool fails or closes, a new Joint Use Agreement will be needed. We have too many overlapping interests not to be putting a priority on collaborating with the District on this project.

Finally, homelessness. I work in South Seattle. I walk and drive by Seattle's homeless encampments daily. R.V.'s line the Red Cross office, parked on city streets. I see the tents slowly creeping north along I-5's green spaces. This issue might not be visible in Shoreline yet, but I believe it's only a matter of time, and may be accelerated by the arrival of light rail stations and higher density.

I know Council is already working on programs to address some of the associated problems like mental health, substance abuse, housing costs. I hope the City and Council will stay vigilant, thoughtful, and consider creative, proactive solutions that support this transient population as well as our permanent residents.

It would be an honor to be part of the conversation and help shape the future of our great city.

4. Describe your special qualifications applicable to City Council.

My expertise is Finance and Arts. I have a master's degree from Concordia University Portland Oregon in Business Administration, with a specialization in Finance. I have studied, worked professionally, and volunteered in the realm of budget development and management, budget analysis, financial analysis, transportation and county general government.

With a 4-year bachelor's in fine arts, and over 14 years of working as a passionate organizer of festivals and community events, I have gathered the experience of working with diverse groups, individuals, communities and local governments in achieving a single purpose, mostly community development. As an immigrant who understands the importance of family, community development, leadership, volunteering work, partnership and solidarity, I believe these special qualifications will serve the council well.

As a professional, my approach is based on strengths of creative problem-solving, taking initiative, following through, customer service, and building rapport. For more than 6 years, I have applied those strengths within public agencies, non-profits, and consulting firms. I would like to bring that creative, tireless, collaborative spirit to the Shoreline City Council.

5. Why do you want to serve on the Shoreline City Council?

It has always been a dream of mine to hold public office. I've worked closely with and campaigned for friends who've won political positions. I've been encouraged to seek elective office by mentors many times throughout my career who have found my passion and character traits a good match for the job. For the first time in my life, that advice seems undeniably correct. When I learned of this opportunity, I could not ignore the sense that here, with the set of issues before us as a community, was a place where I could do the most good. A place where my passion for the public interest and all my experience and background would be useful.

From the moment I moved to Shoreline, I knew I never wanted to move again. I was amazed at the ease with which we'd already made meaningful connections since I moved to join my wife who has been living here with her parents for over 22 years. I was immediately captivated by the environment and overwhelmed by the spirit of community. Just about every day we feel grateful to live here. I am passionate about protecting what makes this place special, and motivated to provide a guiding hand in the areas of my expertise in service of the will of the voters. I am moved whenever I think of the shared vision laid out in the aspirational Vision 2029. It reflects my own dream for the future of our city as an inclusive, thriving, sustainable community. It is my purpose in life as a professional to take up the banner of community and serve as an empathetic, hard-working catalyst for the shared vision of that community.

My expertise is Finance and Arts. I have a master's degree from Concordia University Portland Oregon in Business Administration, with a specialization in Finance. I have studied, worked professionally, and volunteered in the realm of budget development and management, budget analysis, financial analysis, transportation and county general government.

6. *Specify any activities that might create a conflict of interest if you should be appointed to the City Council. None

7. Briefly explain what you believe are the most important issues facing the Shoreline community at this time and the role the City Council can play in addressing each issue.

Growth (a healthy community), transportation options, and the arts, all three of which are inextricably linked. The choices we make as a community today or beyond have lasting impacts, positive and negative, the dividends of those decisions can make or unmake our community for decades hence.

I would propose to address those issues by reaching out to the community to ensure whatever solutions we propose match the vision of the community. I would further look at our proposals through the lens of many years' experience in public policy and studying the results as well as unintended consequences of past policy in the areas of growth (community development), transportation and arts. What are the long-term ramifications of decisions before us today? What are the opportunity costs of one policy direction over another? And, crucially, how do decisions we make, however well-intentioned, match with our rhetoric, the will of the voters, the framework in which we operate as mandated by the state, or legally?

These are the sorts of questions a high-functioning body like our City Council can and should ask, and I would be eager to work collaboratively with fellow councilmembers to make sure we consider these important questions, and pursue where they lead us, hopefully to better outcomes

I see this vacancy as an opportunity to bring my background in Finance and Arts to bear for the benefit of the city and neighborhood in which I hope to spend the rest of my life. While working as Pierce Transit/County's Business Development and Budget Analyst, I architected a business plan for establishing a county-wide Transit Communication Technology with a capital budget of $62 million. Liaised with over 43 Law Enforcement Agencies and 9 General Government within Pierce County to create a new rate allocation model with a more accurate cost per user of the shared technology platform by utilizing business drivers captured in enterprise databases, cutting preparation time of this complex calculation by 75%.

This required me to do an extensive research about policies, property rights, funding sources and multiple taxing systems. Uncovering those linkages through policy to present actionable recommendations has always been my passion. And these are policy areas that can cause a great deal of concern in our community. The council's first value, of listening to the community and representing its interests and goals is especially important in this area. I worked closely with some of the councilmembers of Pierce County, including the then county executive who is now the state auditor to make this possible. I led communications efforts for equitable rate allocations and budget development and office projects which served as a precedence.

Our City government, in an open, collaborative, highly-transparent and accessible manner, will play the central role in the realization of our shared vision as a community. It is not mere coincidence my vision is like shared vision hammered out over the past few years leading up to the completion of the Vision 2029 statement in the comprehensive plan.

CITY COUNCILMEMBER APPLICATION

Application is due by 5:00 p.m., January 3, 2019

Name Dr. Rebeca Rivera

Are you a registered voter? Yes

Are you a resident of the City of Shoreline? Yes

Length of residence in Shoreline? 9.5 years

1. List your educational background (or attach resume).

Please See Attached Resume

2. Please state your occupational background, beginning with your current occupation and employer (or attach resume).

3. Describe your community activities and volunteer work (or attach resume).

4. Describe your special qualifications applicable to City Council.

I have expertise in urban development, policy, sustainable development, and housing. My PhD work focused on urban sustainability and housing development in this region. I have a research background in housing and recreation in King County. I have extensive knowledge of less well known development approaches that work in other cities and regions across the country.

As a board member for a community land trust for housing I have experience balancing values, long term goals, and budgets.

I also have expertise in facilitation and consensus decision making—especially around contentious or complex issues. I am an empathetic person, an excellent listener, and enjoy working to solve problems.

5. Why do you want to serve on the Shoreline City Council?

I would like apply my expertise to serve the public, the city council, and the City of Shoreline. I want to help maintain the City of Shoreline as a thriving, healthy, and sustainable city into the future. I would strive to ask questions that will lead to informed decisions and to vote on resolutions balancing my expertise, community concern, long term goals of the city, the knowledge and perspectives of the elected city council members, and the budget.

I am also excited to learn from the experience and insight of the current city council. Being able to hold a City Council position, even for a year, would make me a stronger and more informed citizen and potentially run for office in the future.

I really enjoy the fine detail of policy and legal documents—specifically thinking about the implications of particular sections and terms used. I have co-authored land trust documents, use agreements, and MOUs. I have also analyzed bills and policy documents. I look forward to reading and commenting on city documents.

Finally, I am transitioning out of academia in order to actively work on the complex and interconnected issues we are facing as a region. I have just accepted part-time position with Leadership Tomorrow and want to use my additional time for public service. The one year City Council position is a perfect fit for my time, interests, and expertise.

6. Specify any activities that might create a conflict of interest if you should be appointed to the City Council.

None

7. Briefly explain what you believe are the most important issues facing the Shoreline community at this time and the role the City Council can play in addressing each issue.

We are facing a number of intersecting challenges including regional growth, economic progress, affordable housing, access to public transportation, climate mitigation, and social and racial equity. One of the most important issues to address is ensuring affordable housing and sustainable development around transit hubs and specifically around the new light rail stations. Through development and growth it is also important to maintain the feel of Shoreline as a family focused community while growing in population, developing the built environment, and managing resources.

A second important issue is mitigating for climate change. While affordable housing near transit hubs (including light rail stations) will be important for mitigating for climate change we also need to do more. For example, we need to adapt to changes in climate patterns while developing our city and region in ways that minimize carbon emissions and ensure a healthy and prosperous community. Other pressing issues are developing sidewalks, recreational opportunities, and ensuring the continued excellence of our school systems.

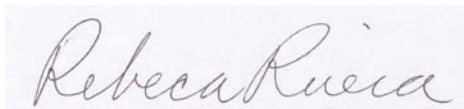

The City Council can play a role in mitigating for and resolving the issues we face through:

Directing and receiving feedback and information from city staff on projects, task forces, action plans, ordinances, and resolutions to ensure the needs, values, interests, and long term well-being of the community are being addressed.

Working with the community, city staff, and city council members to write, give feedback on, and vote on new or amended ordinances and resolutions.

In addressing the issues we face the city council can keep in mind the interconnected issues (such as housing, climate change, and growth) in creating, giving feedback on, or voting on particular items to ensure that they mitigate for or help to solve those issues.

Council Application Attachment: Genevieve Arredondo

4) Describe your special qualifications applicable to City Council.

Throughout my career and personal life, I've committed myself to finding ways to engage marginalized and traditionally underserved audiences. I'm passionate about providing access and opportunities for all and strive to ensure that diverse perspectives are not only represented, but heard.

As a Bilingual Education Specialist for the Monterey Bay Aquarium, I translated and interpreted conservation topics to migrant farm workers and established a summer program that introduced girls from underprivileged backgrounds to marine science and women scientists.

For the past several years, I've served as Board member for the Phinney Neighborhood's Spanish Preschool, where I've been the both the Fundraising and Operations Chair. During my time as Fundraising Chair, I exceeded projected fundraising goals, which allowed the school to increase the number of scholarships awarded to families in need.

Professionally, I work as the Marketing & Communications Manager for the non-profit Girls on the Run, which empowers Puget Sound girls to recognize their inner strength and live healthy and confident lives. The program is currently offered in Shoreline at Parkwood, Highland Terrace, Ridgecrest, Lake Forest Park and Echo Lake Elementary Schools, with additional schools adding this spring. Through this position, I have had the opportunity to get to know Shoreline school administrators, regularly visit participating schools, and connect with local students and families. These activities have allowed me to both better get to know community members and become familiar with the Shoreline School District.

5) Why do you want to serve on the Shoreline City Council?

As the mother of two young boys, one who attended the Shoreline Children's Center and will, with luck, be starting kindergarten at Briarcrest's Dual Immersion Program, I feel passionate about contributing to the community my family and I call home. Since our arrival to Shoreline three years ago, I have followed Council's work and have been impressed by its commitment to ensuring Shoreline's progress and improvement. I would like to join the efforts and team to continue making Shoreline a wonderful community and place to live.

In addition, as a woman and Latina I am interested in joining Council because I believe representation matters. As an immigrant from Mexico, I feel as though I could bring unique perspectives and expertise to Council.

6) Specify any activities that might create a conflict of interest if you should be appointed to the City Council.

I believe there are no conflicts of interest in my potential appointment to Council.

7) Briefly explain what you believe are the most important issues facing the Shoreline community at this time and the role the City Council can play in addressing each issue.

Important Issues Facing the Shoreline Community:

- A. Affordable Housing: As Shoreline rapidly grows and expands, I believe one of our greatest challenges as a community is access to affordable housing. Adequate housing contributes to health and safety, and protects community members from homelessness. Providing access to affordable housing not only lessens the stress on families and individuals with limited income, but decreases the strain on community resources.

As Council is aware, the affordable housing crisis is a complex and regional issue. I support Council's collaboration with King County towards creating an affordable housing project on 198th and Aurora. Council may want to discuss mandating new developers to include a certain percentage of affordable housing units within new housing developments. Council should work to preserve existing affordable housing and may want to consider tax exemptions for landlords who commit to rent restriction. Long term, Council could discuss and weigh the possibility of increasing the city minimum wage so that residents have the income necessary to afford adequate housing.

- B. Arrival of Sound Transit Link: I am confident that the extension of the Link Light Rail to Shoreline will decrease traffic congestion, reduce pollution and make the region more accessible. That being said, I believe construction and the realization of the Link in our community must be monitored carefully. First and foremost, we must consider the potential environmental impacts and residential disruption construction may have. From my understanding, several environmental impact studies have been conducted and that Sound Transit has agreed to tree and environmental restoration in critical areas. I applaud these efforts as well as Council's work in keeping residents informed and allowing for public input during each phase of the project. This, in my opinion, is key to ensuring the project is successful and has the support of Shoreline residents. I believe it is Council's responsibility to relay residents' concerns to Sound Transit, hold Sound Transit accountable on agreements, and ensure the Link station and related infrastructure are constructed in a responsible and safe manner.

- C. Sidewalk Installation:

I commend Council for working to add the sidewalk improvement tax on the ballot this year, as I believe it is an important issue. Sidewalks are a priority because they make Shoreline a more walkable community and allow for safer travel for both pedestrians and wheelchairs. To maximize their use, the areas that are used the most and where pedestrians are most vulnerable, such as schools and parks, should receive the highest priority. City Council may also want to consider mandating that new developments and housing complexes include sidewalks as part of their construction proposal and permitting process.
