

CITY COUNCIL AGENDA ITEM
CITY OF SHORELINE, WASHINGTON

AGENDA TITLE: Adoption of Ordinance No. 403, the 2006 Property Tax Levy
DEPARTMENT: Finance
PRESENTED BY: Debbie Tarry, Finance Director

PROBLEM/ISSUE STATEMENT:

The City of Shoreline is required to adopt its 2006 levy ordinance and certify the amount to the County Assessor by December 2, 2005. The 2006 proposed budget includes a recommended 1% property tax levy increase plus new construction.

ALTERNATIVES ANALYZED:

Property Tax

Initiative 747 limits property tax levy increases to 1%, unless voter approval is received for a greater increase. The Council can choose to adopt a levy with an increase that is less than 1% and make a corresponding reduction in expenditures to maintain a balanced 2006 budget. The 1% levy increase will generate approximately $68,700 in revenues for the General Fund. Due to the estimated new construction value of $39.2 million, the levy will increase by approximately $48,800 resulting in a 2006 levy increase of $117,500 as compared to the 2005 levy, for a total estimated 2006 levy of $7 million.

FINANCIAL IMPACT:

The total resources used in the proposed 2006 budget are $78,936,984. Revenue from property taxes in the amount of $6,935,415 is equal to approximately 99% of the requested 2006 property tax levy and represents approximately 9% of the overall City resources. If the Council does not approve the proposed property tax levy, the 2006 proposed revenues and expenditures would need to be decreased.

RECOMMENDATION

Staff recommends that Council approve Ordinance No. 403, establishing the 2006 property tax levy for the City.

INTRODUCTION

The City of Shoreline is required to adopt its 2006 levy ordinance and certify the amount to the County Assessor by December 2, 2005. A public hearing was held on November 14 to receive public comment on the proposed 2006 property tax levy.

BACKGROUND

Property Tax

In 2001, voters approved Initiative 747 (I-747) in a statewide election. The provisions of I-747 limit property tax levy increases by local governments to the lower of the Implicit Price Deflator (IPD) or 1% without voter approval. This excludes any new property tax revenues generated as a result of new construction. The IPD for the July 2004 to July 2005 period was 2.541%. Therefore, without voter approval, the maximum increase allowed is 1% plus the value of new construction.

The 2006 proposed budget includes the allowed 1% levy increase. The revenue generated from this proposed levy increase is approximately $68,700. The King County Assessor has provided an estimated amount for new construction that totals nearly $39.2 million, resulting in an increase in revenue of nearly $48,800. These two factors result in an overall 2006 levy increase of $117,500 when compared with the 2005 levy.

We are projecting an average property valuation increase of 7.7% for Shoreline in 2006. With the values of new construction and the overall valuation increase, the current assessed valuation of $5,533,893,618 will increase to $5,957,643,224. As a result, the City's levy rate is projected to decrease by approximately 5.5% in 2006 from $1.24456 to $1.17607. The City's levy rate has decreased each year since 2000 when the rate was $1.60

Property taxes collected for 2005 will be based upon the assessed valuation established during 2005. With the projected valuation increase of 7.7%, an average priced home valued at $289,000 in 2005 is projected to increase to a value of $311,253 in 2006. A homeowner of an average priced home could expect that the property tax that they pay to the City will increase from $360 in 2005 to $366 in 2006, a $6 increase. The homeowner will pay additional taxes to other jurisdictions such as King County, Shoreline School District, local Fire District, and the State School levy. The City's property tax collections represent only 10.5% of the total property tax paid by City of Shoreline property owners in 2005.

ALTERNATIVES ANALYZED:

The City Council can choose to adopt a smaller property tax levy increase or no levy increase at all. This would necessitate a reduction in the proposed 2006 City revenues and expenditures to reflect the reduced levy.

During the 2006 budget review process including the public hearings, the Council had an opportunity to hear from stakeholders on any possible concerns that they have with the proposed 2006 property tax levy.

RECOMMENDATION

Staff recommends that Council approve Ordinance No. 403, establishing the 2006 property tax levy for the City.
