Oops. I missed this. Here is what the administrator of the nextdoor site posted regarding the Police on their page:

Shoreline Police Department and Nextdoor^{34m ago}

We are excited to announce that the Shoreline Police Department has shown interest in using Nextdoor to provide important updates and information to neighborhoods in your area. As part of this effort, you may see periodic updates from Shoreline Police Department staff in your neighborhood. The purpose of these updates is to share alerts, news, and other notifications that are relevant to your neighborhood. It's important to note that Shoreline Police Department staff can only see their own posts and replies to these posts. They will NOT be able to access or view any information that you and your neighbors have shared in your neighborhood. Communicating with Shoreline Police Department staff is entirely voluntary, and you can see more information here. You may choose to unsubscribe from all Shoreline Police Department posts, as explained here. Please visit our Help Center if you have any questions.

Community Outreach / Problem Solving Officer Steven Perry from Shoreline Police Department

Hello Shoreline residents and business owners! My name is Steve Perry, and I am an officer with the Shoreline Police Department. I am happy that Next Door has made it available for public agencies to reach out directly to the community via this utility.

I am the police department's "Community Outreach / Problem Solving" officer. In this capacity, I administrate the crime prevention programs throughout the city. The capstone of this program is Shoreline WATCH, which is our version of Neighborhood Watch. It is my goal to assist in creating a community where residents know their neighbors and look out for their welfare. In turn, these communities will become our partners in crime fighting.

It is important to note that your individual Nextdoor pages remain private. I can not access profile information or read the information on your particular neighborhood's page. I am only able to access or view direct replies to my posts. In addition, Nextdoor is not the appropriate venue to report suspicious activity, crimes, or request other emergency services. 911 is, and will always be the best avenue to request emergency service.

It is my goal to share timely and accurate information via this site, advertise crime prevention programs, and strengthen the relationship between the community and your police department.

Steve
