Chief's Message

This week we welcome Sgt. Rob Knight back to Pct 5, and we are excited to have him back. As most of you already know, this is a return trip for Sgt. Knight. He has been assigned to 4A; when you get a chance stop by and say hello to him.

The Washington State Legislature has sent their proposed budget to the governor's desk; what does that mean for KCSO? I am not sure yet. Once I find out how this impacts KCSO I will let everyone know. I will be out of the office next week and will be leaving you in the capable hands of the Captains. Captain Angelo will be acting Chief in my absence. Please be kind to him! That is all for now.

Take care,

- Chief Tommy Collins

Dedicated Team Ensures Man Receives Support

On the morning of April 30th, Deputy Sarah Lacy and MHP Emily Evans responded to an Area Check on the Interurban Trail. They stayed with a man experiencing homelessness, encouraging him to wait for Recovery Navigators—a vital step, as he often leaves before help arrives. Thanks to their patience and commitment, he received the care he needed.

"Deputy Lacey treats everyone she encounters with respect and dignity, regardless of what they're going through. She is dedicated to community members getting help and bettering their lives and I am lucky to get to work with her. We're hopeful that this gentleman gets the help he needs!"

- Emily Evans, MSW, LICSW

Kenmore's Annual Public Safety Report Showcases Crime Decline

On Monday, April 28, Chief Brandon Moen presented the annual Kenmore Police Services Report (PSR) to the Kenmore City Council during a Public Safety Workshop, which also included updates from the KC District Court, Prosecutor, Public Defense, and Regional Crisis Responders. Highlights included Kenmore's ranking among the top five safest cities in Washington by Safewise, a 50% reduction in residential burglaries, and an 18% decrease in traffic collisions.

"Thanks to the hard work and dedication of our King County deputies assigned to Kenmore, we have seen reductions in crime rates in many key areas and another year recognized as one of Washington's safest cities. I, as well as our community, thank Chief Moen and his officers for their proactive approach and responsiveness to the needs of our community."

Life-Saving Heroics: Officers Bennett and Trop Act Swiftly in Crisis

On the evening of March 12, 2025, around 1950, Deputy Austin Bennett was patrolling the Safeway parking lot when a woman urgently flagged him down. She reported a possible overdose at the Chevron station across the street. Without hesitation, Deputy Bennett responded and found a young man in his late 20s unresponsive on the ground. Following protocol, he administered Narcan at 1953. Moments later, Deputy Spencer Trop arrived and assisted in placing the man into a recovery position. Within minutes, Shoreline Fire personnel were on scene. The man soon regained consciousness and was able to speak with first responders. He declined further aid.

"Watching the body-worn camera footage of this incident was incredibly impactful. It served as a reminder of the amazing work our Shoreline deputies do every day. There is no doubt in my mind that Deputies Austin Bennett and Spencer Trop saved that man's life that night."

- Sergeant Ian Campbell

Community Court Marks Five Years of Service and Impact

The background of the poster is a solid blue color. In the top right corner, there are three balloons: one green, one yellow, and one pink, each with a black outline and a small black string. In the bottom left corner, there are several orange and blue streamers or ribbons that are curled and flowing upwards.
